

At-One-Ment

As you reflect upon the principle of Oneness, and gain greater insight into its application to all life, especially to your relationships with your fellow man, you are better able to accept the significance of what the Master is saying to you with these words:

We would recall to your minds a fact you must not overlook: You are a member of a group of souls, which, much as a large family, has been together for a long, long time. And as one of our number is lifted up in consciousness all others in the group also are lifted up. Conversely, as one of the group misuses his powers, the others are also adversely affected. For you have learned, and now are aware of the fact, that whatever you send forth is your responsibility. And its effect, good or bad, is not necessarily limited to your immediate environment.

It is important that you remain alert to the responsibility you owe both to yourself and to all the members of your group - indeed, to all the universe - to guard carefully the nature of our thoughts and actions.

As you evolve and unfold the Higher Self of your being, the power and the level of the light you issue forth increases and all your fellow men are lifted up by it. Correspondingly, your area of responsibility is also increased, but your willingness to accept it is readily forthcoming, as is your ability to cope with it increased.
